

UTHealth Houston has long recognized the benefits of collaboration in the academic, research, and clinical arenas. The purpose of the Visiting Scientist (VS) Program is to bring to UTHealth Houston established and accomplished scholars who can contribute to and enrich the university's research, intellectual and academic endeavors. This program provides a unique opportunity for visiting scientist appointed at and paid by other institutions to collaborate and actively participate in university research and educational programs of mutual interest under the supervision of a UTHealth Houston faculty member. The Visiting Scientist may observe clinical practices but cannot provide patient care or have any type of direct patient contact (i.e., taking patient history, etc.). All individuals appointed under the Visiting Scientist Program are subject to and required to observe all applicable federal, state, and local laws, including but not limited to export controls laws and regulations, and requirements of UTHealth rules and regulations, including Intellectual Property Rights and Obligations.

Visiting Scientists are not employees of UTHealth Houston, but are appointed for a defined time period in academic departments and/or school-based centers and institutes. A terminal degree is required: M.D. (or equivalent), DDS, DrPH, DNP, DVM, PharmD, DPT, EdD, DSci and/or PhD.
